Red bellied - Monticola solitarius philippensis Male and female

The male was sitting on top of the breaker when I approached to take a picture. I don't come close enough for a good picture before the male took off.

After a while there is a female coming up to look for the male and I realize that I scared away the male that was courting the female and the female was surprised when he suddenly disappeared.

Breeding Code C Courtship, Display, or Copulation (Probable)
